Committee Internal Balloting on UNIDO Category A liaison request

COMMENTS

Dear member,

Please find below a request of UNIDO for the establishment of a Category A liaison with ISO/TC 268.

The establishment of a Category A liaison entitles the concerned organization to get access to all relevant documents, to participate in meetings, to nominate experts to WGs and to contribute actively to standardization work.

UNIDO is the specialized agency of the United Nations that works to promote and accelerate sustainable industrialization in developing countries and economies in transition. The organization's mandate is to support countries in their efforts to achieve Inclusive and Sustainable Industrial Development (ISID) and to foster the SDG 9, which calls to build resilient infrastructure, promote inclusive and sustainable industrialization and encourage innovation.

FOLLOW UP

Please cast your vote on the establishment of the requested liaison through the Committee Internal Ballot that will be launched on March 21st and will close on April 21st 2019.

BACKGROUND NOTE

Subject: UNIDO Request to ISO Central Secretariat for Category A Status of Organization in Liaison with ISO/TC 268 Sustainable Cities and Communities.

UNIDO is the specialized agency of the United Nations that works to promote and accelerate sustainable industrialization in developing countries and economies in transition. The organization's mandate is to support countries in their efforts to achieve Inclusive and Sustainable Industrial Development (ISID) and to foster the SDG 9, which calls to build resilient infrastructure, promote inclusive and sustainable industrialization and encourage innovation.

Although industry is a key engine of economic growth, the industry sector has been overlooked in the sustainable cities agenda since traditionally the industrial sector is energy intensive and produces high carbon and other harmful emissions to the environment. However, with the advancement of new clean technologies, economic growth, supported by industry, becomes one of the key pillars of sustainability. In this regard, low-carbon and resource efficient industries can empower the economies of cities and provide solutions for decoupling economic growth from carbon emissions thus preserving the environment, while at the same time creating green jobs for young people, including women, and for a range of disadvantaged groups.

Through its technical assistance services, UNIDO has contributed to decarbonizing energy systems, increasing industrial energy efficiency, establishing inclusive and sustainable industrial supply value chains, and increasing the productivity and competitiveness of urban economic sectors. All of this contributes to the sustainability of cities. In addition to implementing an integrated package of solutions that enhance the effectiveness, efficiency and safety of the technical and industrial processes of cities, UNIDO's services include integrated urban planning. This approach allows the integration of sustainable sectoral interventions into the surrounding urban tissue, as well as into long term city development strategies.

UNIDO seeks to contribute to the development of ISO/TC 268 by building on its experience furthering inclusive and sustainable and industrial development within the urban context, as well as based on UNIDO's involvement in the development and use of ISO 50001. UNIDO's experience in both areas has motivated the organization to continue working in collaboration with ISO and the international community to build awareness and support participation of developing regions in the ISO/TC 268 development process. Such encouragement was fully endorsed by the representatives of TC 268 who invited UNIDO to continue contributing its valuable expertise and inputs to Working Group from the position of an organization in liaison with TC 268, and recommended UNIDO to submit a request to ISO for Category-A status.
